Concerning Mitchell, the court pointed to various acts by him, which, he said, placed him within the pale of the law.

Persist in Violation.

Continuing as to all three of the defendants, the court said:

"In defense of the charges now at bar neither apology nor extenuation is deemed fit to be embraced; no claim of unmeant contumacy is heard, persisting in contemptuous violation of the order, no defense is offered save these:

these:

"That the injunction (1) infringed the constitutional guaranty of freedom of the press, and (2) infringed the constitutional guaranty of free-

In connection with the consideration of the contention that the injunction invaded the right of free speech and of the press, the court held in part:

"The position of the respondents in-voices questions vital to the preser-vation of social order, questions which smite the foundations of civil govern-ment, and upon which the supremacy of the law over snarchy and riot veri-ity depend."

Determined to Disabey.

"In conclusion, the court said in part;
"Before the injunction was granted

One or the other must succumb, for those who would unlaw the law are public enemies."

In passing sentence on the defendance the court said:

"It would seem not inappropriate for such a penalty as will serve to indicate the orderly power of judicial tribunals, and establish over this litigation the supremacy of law."

The Bucks Company's prosecution of the officials of the referation began in August, 1907. The original action was a test case, wherein it was sought to enjoin the labor unions from using the "unfair" and "we don't patronize" lists in their fight against firms and individuals. Justice Gould, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, issued an injunction, which was later made permanent, forbliding the publication of the company's name in these lists. President Gompers, in an editorial in "The Federationist" of lest January, made known his intention not to obey the court's order, contending that the injunction issued was in deregation of the rights of labor and an abuse of the courts. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison subsequently were cited for contempt, and this plaze of the courts. Petition the President.

Whether President Roosevelt will take any action, as he has been urged to do in telegrams received from different labor organizations throughout the country, in connection with Judge wright's decision has not been decided, it was stated at the White House today. There was an infilmation, however, that some action might be taken if he should be convinced that the sentence is unjust, if it should be affirmed upon appeal. The Illinois United Mine Workers sent this telegram signed by President John H. Walter, the vice-president, secretary, treasurer and members of the executive board:

"In the name of 75,000 mine workers in Illinois we desire to protest against the recent decision committing the province of the case of

TO SETTLE TROUBLE

Holland and Venezucia Will Soon Arrive at Amicable Agreement.

THE HAGUE, December 23.—The revocation of the transshipment decree of May 14th by the Venezucian government was unnounced in the lower House of Parliament this afternoon by Ministor Van Swindern. It was this decree that made most of the trouble between Venezucia and the Notherlands. Under its terms the transshipment of goods at Willemstad destined for Venezucia was prolitifed, and its operations worked much injury to the commerce of the Dutch island. The foreign minister said also that the Dutch naval operations along the Venezucian coast had been suspended at the request of acting President Gomez.

The foreign minister's words werd as follows:

"Tollowing the discovery of a plot against the life of the Vice-President of Venezucia, a new ministry was formed and some of the supporters of President Castro were cast into prison.

"On December 21st, Acting President Gomez, as an evidence of friendliness and pending later negotiations by duly appointed delegates, ordered a stay of execution of the decree of May 14th and expressed the hope that the Notherlands similarly would suspend the increase of Prending the rescatabilishment of a

"All I can say about 1912 is that I hope it will never be necessary for the to run for office again. I prefer to do my work as a private citizen. "I will add one other thing, and that is that I am still in politics and expect to be for about twenty years, and I shall make it convenient to be present whenever and wherever a mm or group of men attempt to Republicanize the Democrate party. Six million five hundred thousand voters of the Democracy indorsed the platform adopted at Denver. I am satisfied that a great majority of those who voted the ticket honestly believed in the platform, and I shall co-operate with them rather than with shose who would attempt to conciliate the special interests that have defented the Democratic party, and now dominates the country through the Republican purly."

Mr. Bryan was much interested in the decision in the Bucks Stove Company case. He gave considerable prominence to the court injunction issue in the late presidential campaign. An interview with him on to-day's decision was sought. Mr. Bryan said:

"The commitment to prison of two men so prominent in the labor movement as Gompers and Mitchell is unique in the annals of labor movements in this country. Until I have read the court's opinion and considered the matter carefully, I can have nothing to say regarding the case."
